International Women's Day: March 8

International Women's Day, celebrated annually on March 8, is a global day celebrating the social, economic, cultural, and political achievements of women. It is a day when women are recognized for their achievements without regard to divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic or political. The day also marks a call to action for advancing gender equality. International Women's Day has been around for well over a century, with the first International Women's Day marked in 1911. In 2026, International Women's Day marks an extraordinary milestone: 115 years of collective action, advocacy, and progress toward gender equality. For more than a century, International Women's Day has helped drive transformative changes. Each generation has built on the courage of those before it, pushing boundaries and redefining what is possible. International Women's Day is a specific day dedicated to the advancement of women worldwide. Marked by millions of people on March 8, International Women's Day provides an important platform to engage with communities, reflect on progress, and commit to positive action.

Theme for International Women's Day in 2026 is ''Give To Gain''.

Give To Gain emphasizes the power of reciprocity and support. When people, organizations, and communities give generously, opportunities and support for women increase. Giving is not a subtraction, it's intentional multiplication. When women thrive, we all rise. Whether through donations, knowledge, resources, infrastructure, visibility, advocacy, education, training, mentoring, or time, contributing to women's advancement helps create a more supportive and interconnected world.
